Circleville had to settle for a quick first period touchdown by Walt Arledge and a mighty field goal by Asa Elsea in the final frame to down the stubborn Indians of Hillsboro, 10-0, in last night's homecoming battle on the local gridiron.

The Tigers started with a bang when they took the pigskin midway in the first quarter and moved 52 yards in 10 plays for their only TD of the evening. From that point on the locals found it rough going as the Indians buckled down to stop repeated CHS drives.

The Tigers battled up and down the field without a score the next two quarters. Finally, with about three minutes remaining, Elsea, out of practice most of this week with the flu, sent a tremendous boot through the goal posts from the 19-yard line.

Elsea's kick, his second goal attempt of the evening, sailed well above the cross bar, on across Pickaway St. and into a local citizen's front yard. It marked his second field goal this season, the first being a boot from the 25-yard line in the Athens game.

OTHER than Circleville's spirited drive in the opening quarter, the game was marked by some lax play on the part of both teams. Numerous penalties and costly fumbles marred the contest throughout.

In spite of this, the Tigers made a successful homecoming by winning their second South Central Ohio test in two starts. It was the second straight league loss for appeared to stem from the lack of a consistent offense.

Friday before. Most of the trouble

The CHS grididers were able to move the ball at intervals, but bogged down several times when the goal line was close at hand.

This especially was true in the fourth quarter when the Tigers lost two scoring opportunities, one by way of a fumble on the 4-yard line. The other faltered due to a 15-yard clipping penalty from the Indians' four.

Right half Walt Arledge, displaying his usual sharp running, tallied Circleville's touchdown on a 2-yard smash. Elsea and his educated toe split the uprights for the extra point.

About 75 persons attended a dinner last night celebrating the switch to dial telephone, slated for 6:30 a. m. tomorrow.

Guests of the General Telephone Co. of Ohio, which operates the Circleville exchange, heard a talk by Clare E. Williams, Marion, president of General L. D. Varble, manager of the Ralston Purina plant here responded on behalf of the city.

The new dial system will be cut in at 6:30 a. m. tomorrow, at a period of low traffic. The actual switch-over will take but a few minutes.

From that point on, all telephone users will have to dial the numbers in the new phone directory to get their parties.

The new dial system is the culmination of about 15 months and $1,000,000 work, said Williams.

He promised a "very fine telephone system for Circleville."

WILLIAMS THEN explained the objectives of General Telephone Co. of Ohio. He said the company is seeking to give reliable service, pay just wages and salaries and recognize individual merit, maintain a sound financial condition, find better ways of doing business, price its service as low as possible, and be alert to develop new services.

Williams declared the future of Circleville and General Telephone is unlimited. He listed the capital expenditures of the company to convert the Circleville exchange to dial. They are building and remodeling, $180,000; 12 new switchboard positions, $75,000; dial equipment, $354,000; plant (cable, poles, wires), $234,000, and dial telephone instruments, $168,000.

Injured Youth Saved from Crag

SALT LAKE CITY (AP) — Weary rescuers reached 17-year-old Doug Chapman at the top of Mount Olympus just before dawn today and reported he appeared to be in fair condition. They said he had lacerations but no broken bones.

The Salt Lake County sheriff's office reported the boy had a swollen face from his long ordeal. His eyes were swollen shut, and he could not see to walk. It was decided to move him down the mountain side on a stretcher.

Officials said it would take several hours to take the boy down the mountain because they would have to ease the stretcher over the sharp rocks and rugged brush on the side of the steep, 9,017-foot peak.

Jetliner Service Opened by British

NEW YORK (AP) — A British Comet IV airliner left Idlewild Airport for London today on the first commercial jet flight from the United States — beating an American airline in getting service started.

The roar of its four powerful engines partly muffled by noise suppressors, the British Overseas Airways Corp. plane took off at 7:01 a. m.

It carried 28 passengers, a crew of eight, and eight extra crew members. The nonstop trip was expected to take about 6½ hours. With the reported favorable winds, the Comet, named Delta Bravo, could break the record of 6 hours, 16 minutes for the Atlantic crossing. Piston-driven planes require about 11½ hours.

The flight was the first eastward hop for a commercial jet with fare-paying passengers. A sister ship, the Delta Charlie, took off from London at 8:55 a. m. bound for New York, to inaugurate officially commercial travel by jet across the Atlantic.

The Delta Charlie left London while an American Boeing 707 jet was waiting at the London Airport to undergo noise tests. Both jets already have passed the tests necessary for use of Idlewild.

The Port of New York Authority opened the field to jet passenger plane use Friday.

Plan Hinted Headed for Arkansas Law

LITTLE ROCK, Ark. (AP) — Reports the Arkansas Legislature may get a proposal to abolish the state's public school system circulated today.

They followed Gov. Orval E. Faubus' statement that the city's four high schools will remain closed this year unless the federal government yields in the integration deadlock.

Faubus could not be reached for comment on the reported plan to seek abandonment of the entire public school system.

But the governor indicated Friday that the Legislature may become an arena of the integration dispute.

Sources at the state capitol and an official of the Citizens Council said the legislature might be asked to establish a statewide system of private schools, to be effected through a state constitutional amendment.

The sources, who requested anonymity, said that if the plan is adopted, state support would be given white and Negro pupils on a per capita basis. Private agencies would operate all the of the state's schools as segregated institutions and a student could choose the school he wanted to attend.

The two planes are expected to greet each other in mid-Atlantic. Among the passengers on the westbound flight was BOAC Chairman Sir Gerald D'Erlanger.

The plane is expected in New York in midafternoon after a stop at Gander, Nfld.

Nationalists Gird To Protect Airdrop System for Quemoy

TAIPEI, Formosa (AP) — Nationalist Sabrejets may now fly close escort for airdrop missions to Quemoy to guard them from Communist jet fighters, a Defense Ministry spokesman said today.

Four Communist MIG-17s attacked transports parachuting supplies to the besieged offshore island Friday, forcing one crippled C46 to land. The Nationalist Defense Ministry revealed today the MIGs also strafed Quemoy.

Welfare-Statism Hit by Bricker

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP) — Republican Sen. John W. Bricker says the "disease of welfare-statism is threatening the freedom of America."

In an address Friday to a statewide meeting of Young Ohioans for Bricker, a campaign organization aiding his bid for a third term in the U. S. Senate, Bricker said:

"Our freedom for individual achievement has accomplished more than any other nation in history in the fields of science, technology, medicine, sanitation and industry. However, it is being sapped by an ever-expanding central government and its bureaucracy."

The 25-page brief said:

"It is now as plain as day that there is no alternative to compliance with the law, and that no schemes or devices for operating public schools on a segregated basis can hope to succeed."

The government said it was telephones in service in the local area. That figure will jump to about 5,120 by the end of the year, according to company estimates.

Yesterday's program started with a tour of the new telephone plant at 113 Pinckney St. The group then shifted to Tink's Tavern for the dinner and talks.

"This can be stopped," said Rear Adm. Liu Hoh-Tu, the Defense Ministry spokesman. "We are not going to sit there and wait for the transport planes to be shot up again."

U. S. built F86 Sabrejets were flying high altitude cover for the low-flying transports, Liu said. When the MIGs suddenly swooped on the slow cargo planes from the nearby Red China mainland, it took the Sabrejets too long to get down and the MIGs had fled.

"Olaf is the only walrus in captivity in the Western Hemisphere. He's fat (1,200 pounds) and sassy and in apparently good health, but his eyes always have that monomaniacal hangover look. They're crimson and blearily looking."

"We knew he'd not been on a barge," said aquarium Director Christopher Coates Friday. "And we knew he was getting plenty of sleep. But we couldn't figure out what was wrong with his eyes."

When they called in a veterinarian, the latter threw up his hands and said, "What do I know about walrus eyes?"

Someone got the bright idea of asking up Alaska way, where Olaf came from.

The answer came back from the Alaskan Fish and Game Service: Blearily red eyes are par for the course in walruses.

But we're probably not through with Olaf. Coates is worried about something else. Olaf, he says, "keeps sucking the paint off the walls of his tank, and is trying to take the caulking out of the windows."

ELOPING YOUTHS HELD FOR ROBBERY

CINCINNATI (AP) — Police said two hungry Michigan teenagers robbed a Cincinnati woman of $5 at knifepoint Friday night to buy groceries.

Officers identified them as Doyle Black, 18, and his 16-year-old girl friend, both from Walled Lake, Mich., and said they admitted to police robbing Mrs. Mary Sides, 47.

The youngsters were arrested a few blocks away. When captured, they were carrying a sackful of groceries purchased with the $5. "We hadn't eaten for two days," Black said. Police quoted the two saying they arrived in Cincinnati Monday after running away from home to get married.

Queen Linda Emerine Rules At Circleville Homecoming

The Circleville and Hillsboro High School Bands provided the entertainment and Homecoming Queen Linda Emerine ruled the field and made a grand entrance by walking across the gridiron to the south sideline.

It is unthinkable to me that any people possessed of their senses would say, in effect: 'We will close our schools and let our children grow up in ignorance.'

Seawell personally has condemned the Supreme Court's 1954 decision ordering integration in the public schools, but he said North Carolina will abide by it. The state began limited integration in some public schools last year.

While these statements were being made, the question of obtaining Foundation there said it is suspending a plan to provide private schooling for pupils enrolled at six secondary schools.

James G. Martin, foundation president, said the group has been unable to sign up a single public school teacher. For that reason, he said, the foundation will cease enrollment and return tuition fees already paid.

Other legal maneuvers are being planned in an effort to reopen the Warren County High School at Front Royal and two Charlottesville schools. Makeshift private classroom facilities have been provided for many of the 1,700 displaced pupils at Charlottesville.

No Water Survey Here

A pair of enterprising salesmen called on the wrong guy here yesterday.

They knocked on the door. The home owner opened and the pair started the spiel. They said they were checking the water for softness, implying that the city had sent them to do the work. They even had a small kit to check water hardness.

After listening to the story, the home owner proceeded to explain he knew about the hardness of the water and already had a water softener in his home.

Then, Ervin Leist, manager of public utilities, went on to say that the Water Department is NOT conducting a survey and that it has not endorsed any particular brand of water softener.

Presbyterian

"Can You Afford to Take Communion?" This theme will be considered during the 10:30 a. m. hour of worship Sunday at the Presbyterian Church which unites with Christian Churches all over the world in observing World Wide Communion Sunday.

On this day Christian believers the world around will be assembling "in one mind in Christ," before His table. This is not a "memorial" rite, but "in remembrance" of the fulfillment of God's Promise from the beginning, culminating through Old Testament history, to send One who can reconcile mankind with God—to end the spirit of antagonism and contempt and rebellion against God.

It is a world-wide movement to dedicate our thinking and our mode of living to God's purpose as revealed in Christ. Here we will consider anew our life purpose in that Light, and pledge our loyalty and devotion to His cause as we can best support it in and through His Church.

The Rev. Mr. Mitchell will read the Scripture from Jeremiah 31 live in our hearts toward God and the church.

What we do as Christians should be an expression of our love for the supreme sacrifice made by the Son of God on the cross. How much we do will be the measure of our love for Him. True Christians have the love that constrains or compels us to serve. This love will discipline our lives and bring untold joy to our hearts. The love of Christ in our hearts will bring about the proper relationship between individuals and nations.

The Sunday evening worship hour begins at 7:30 p. m. preceded by the Baptist Training Union at 6:30 p. m.

Wheels in Motion

THE CHURCH FOR ALL . . . ALL FOR THE CHURCH

The Church is the greatest factor on earth for the building of character and good citizenship. It is a storehouse of spiritual values. Without a strong Church, neither democracy nor civilization can survive. There are four sound reasons why every person should attend services regularly and support the Church. They are: (1) For his own sake. (2) For his children's sake. (3) For the sake of his community and nation. (4) For the sake of the Church itself, which needs his moral and material support. Plan to go to church regularly and read your Bible daily.

Day	Book	Chapter	Verses
Sunday	I Corinthians	10	16-23
Monday	John	14	1-23
Tuesday	Psalms	133	1-3
Wednesday	Malachi	3	16
Thursday	Philippians	2	1-2
Friday	John	17	20-21
Saturday	Revelation	3	20

When the gears of a machine mesh together in motion, things begin to happen. Wheels turn, and power is transmitted to every part of the mechanism.

Prayer is something like that. Individual prayer is a vital and sacred thing. Each of us has moments when we—and we alone—must turn to God.

And collective prayer—mass prayer—can be a tremendous force for good too. It is as if thousands of "spiritual gears" suddenly were meshed together into a unit directed by a single purpose.

On Worldwide Communion Sunday, remember the power of collective prayer. Join with your neighbors throughout the globe by attending church and praying both for peace and for each other.

First Baptist

Church First Baptist—sub-hed ch "My God, My God, Why Hast Thou Forsaken Me?" is the theme to be used by the Rev. Paul White in the morning worship hour at the Circleville First Baptist Church. This is the fourth in a series of messages of the sayings of Christ while on the cross. The scripture lesson is found in the Gospel of Matthew 27:45-49.

Only when one makes a deeper study of the things that took place at the cross, can they begin to realize the greatness of God's love. Apostle Paul tells us that, "The love of Christ constraineth us." Some people give the impression they are doing God a favor by attending services and making a small contribution to the church. When we learn the meaning of the cross we will have the right motivation.

The young men's quartet will be singing in the evangelistic service and the pastor will again be the speaker.

THE CHURCH FOR ALL . . . ALL FOR THE CHURCH

The Church is the greatest factor on earth for the building of character and good citizenship. It is a storehouse of spiritual values. Without a strong Church, neither democracy nor civilization can survive. There are four sound reasons why every person should attend services regularly and support the Church. They are: (1) For his own sake. (2) For his children's sake. (3) For the sake of his community and nation. (4) For the sake of the Church itself, which needs his moral and material support. Plan to go to church regularly and read your Bible daily.

Wheels in Motion

When the gears of a machine mesh together in motion, things begin to happen. Wheels turn, and power is transmitted to every part of the mechanism.

Prayer is something like that. Individual prayer is a vital and sacred thing. Each of us has moments when we—and we alone—must turn to God.

And collective prayer—mass prayer—can be a tremendous force for good too. It is as if thousands of "spiritual gears" suddenly were meshed together into a unit directed by a single purpose.

On Worldwide Communion Sunday, remember the power of collective prayer. Join with your neighbors throughout the globe by attending church and praying both for peace and for each other.

Communist Membership Fades

The communist party, which never really found hospitable soil in the United States, apparently is fast withering away on the vine.

Reports from New York where the party observed its 39th anniversary indicate that total membership in the organization is only 2,000 in the entire country. Not only is that a minuscule number in a country of 170 million, but it is far below the party's peak of 80,000 members in the 1930s.

This seems to offer more proof that the danger from the communist party in America has not been from its doctrines so much as from the fact that it was a "front" for the designs of an aggressively unfriendly foreign power.

Its doctrines never caught on with many Americans and they impress few now. The very decimation of the party ranks seems to have been caused by an awakening of tens of thousands of its members to the true nature of that to which they had pledged allegiance.

This is not to say that there is no danger from the communists. But that is mainly in the line of espionage and sabotage—and infiltration. The nation obviously can never let down its guard against that menace.

In its own way, the story of the decline of the communist party in America is a great tribute to the intelligence of the American people. Here and there an intellectual or a union local took the bait. But the communists were never able to capture the entire allegiance of any single bloc of voters.

Their utter failure on every score but espionage was never more evident than it is today.

Foreign Loans New Technique

The administration is reported laying plans for a major shift in American foreign aid. This will involve what is becoming known as "the Dillon plan."

It is named after Douglas Dillon, under-secretary of the Treasury, who outlined the thinking behind it to the Senate Foreign Relations Committee last March.

The scheme is to increase the Development Loan Fund to about a billion dollars a year and make this available to countries over the world that need help with their economies but to which the usual sources of credit are closed.

The Dillon plan for expanding the resources of the fund has been under study for many months. But the administration decision to push ahead with it is quite recent.

Perhaps some of the loans will not be repaid. But the money will be accepted in much better spirit by the proud nations of the world if it does not carry strings labeling it as a gift—that is, charity.

Also, there are advantages in loans for the lender. This Russia has learned. She lends money to nations and then they are tied to her economy until the loans are repaid. Why should the U. S. not use this method of inducing nations to retain ties with the West?

Cyprus Plan Came too Late

Four years ago an obscure Greek Orthodox bishop on Cyprus launched a campaign to merge that island with Greece—an effort which plunged that Mediterranean territory into bitter civil war.

Now the churchman, Archbishop Makarios, makes a statement saying he would be willing to see Cyprus become completely independent—of Greece, of Britain which now controls it, and of Turkey.

The turnaround has caught everyone by surprise. But the general reaction in Britain and elsewhere is that Makarios is years too late. He himself lit the fuse which blew Cyprus into terrorism and bloody battles between Greek and British and between Greek and Turk.

Has Foresight Become Hindsight

By George Sokolsky

Many of those who wish to alibi the error of their judgments during the past 40 years, often say that most opinions that differ from theirs, particularly concerning Communist Russia or Communist China, are hindsight, and, of course, hindsight is a disease of which we are all guilty on many phases of life, particularly about ourselves.

The fact, however, is that quite a few persons were anti-Communist as far back as 1917. Among Socialists, Lenin had many opponents. It was Hitler, Mussolini and other Fascists who frightened the liberals into being pro-Communist and drove many an innocent liberal into the Communist camp.

John Spargo published a book in 1920, "Russia as an American Problem." John Spargo had been a distinguished Socialist intellectual who had never been corrupted by the obscurants of Leninism. From the very first, he opposed the Bolsheviks because he recognized their antipathy to human liberty. At best, they sought to change the world by force; at worst, they seemed to have a psychosis about their own superiority over other men.

It was therefore not surprising that Spargo early discovered what I actually witnessed, namely that Lenin, having found that Bolsheviks could only succeed among peoples who knew not freedom, turned to the satrapism of Asia. This is what Spargo wrote in 1920:

"...the leaders of the Russian Bolsheviks have turned their attention to the spread of their propaganda among the Asiatic peoples.

"They are reaching into China, Turkey, into Persia, Afghanistan, and India. They are making connection with, and exploiting,

By Herman N. Bundesen, M.D.

Cancer accounts for one out of every six deaths in America today. In the last 50 years this disease has jumped from seventh place to second in United States mortality tables.

Unless we find some way of preventing and curing it, cancer will strike one out of every four Americans now alive. That means about one person in every family.

Even more alarming is the fact that, if our present rate of cancer deaths continues to climb as it has in the past, our annual death toll from cancer will double within the next 50 years.

Estimates are that about 450,000 new cases of cancer will be discovered in the next year. This doesn't mean there will be 450,000

About half of these cancer victims can be saved with our present knowledge of the disease, providing cases are detected in time.

I've emphasized this need of discovering and treating cancer promptly over and over again. So

BPW Clubs Plan Annual Fall Meeting

The Ohio Federation of Business and Professional Women's Clubs, with 162 affiliated clubs, will assemble in various Ohio cities to attend the annual one-day fall District Meeting being held in each district. Members of the designated clubs will meet October 5, 12 or 19.

The 1958-1959 theme "Achieve through Action — Today" will be used in the program for officers, committee chairmen and members. At each meeting a State of officer, past State president or State committee chairman will be present to advise, counsel and evaluate results.

Discussion groups will be held to evaluate and to further the program through the five program area committees: Career Advancement, Health and Safety, International Relations, Public Affairs and National Security, implemented by Legislation, Finance, Membership and Public Relations.

Mrs. George Steeley and Mrs. C. P. Heiskell were guest speakers when the Pickaway Garden Club held its meeting at the home of Mrs. Sterley Croman, Route 4, yesterday.

Mrs. Steeley, who has been growing African violets for the past 20 years, has 150 violets in her collection. For potting soil she uses 3 parts garden soil, one part peat, one part sand and one part leaf. She starts her plants in soil instead of water and believes a violet should have some sun. She also uses small pots. Mrs. Steeley ended saying, "she considers her violets a pleasure and not work".

Mrs. Heiskell is also another successful grower of African Violets for the past 20 years. Mrs. Heiskell claims there is no secret for having violets. "Just a little time and attention", said the speaker. Mrs. Heiskell said African Violets like a warm, humid condition. She never allows temperature, in winter, to drop below 60 degrees F. In the summer when temperature rises she provides shade and sometimes cools the violets with the electric fan and sprays a fine mist of water over them.

Guests were Mrs. Flo Hook and Mrs. Hal Dickenson.

Mrs. L. E. Foreman was a blue ribbon winner with her arrangement entitled "Country Lane".

Mrs. G. Guy Campbell was awarded second and Mrs. John Mast third.

Discussion groups will be held to evaluate and to further the program through the five program area committees: Career Advancement, Health and Safety, International Relations, Public Affairs and National Security, implemented by Legislation, Finance, Membership and Public Relations.

The Pickaway Club being an affiliate of District 10 of the Federation will attend the meeting in James (Joyce Gaines) Armstrong, Alexandria, Va., Mr. Ronald Gaines, 215 E. Franklin St., and Stevie, Debbie, Sharon and Bob Gaines, Route 4.

Mr. Stonerock drove the first motorized ambulance and horse combination in Pickaway County while employed by W. H. Albaugh, funeral director.

He was associated with the M. S. Rinehart Funeral Home for 13 years, and with the Joe Moats Motor Sales, as salesmen, for 12 years. In all these many years of driving to and from Columbus and many other cities, Mr. Stonerock has an accident free record.

No formal invitations have been sent for the open house. Mr. and Mrs. Stonerock invite all their friends and relatives to call between the hours of 2-6 p.m.

'African Violets' Topic For Pickaway Garden Club

Mrs. George Steeley and Mrs. C. P. Heiskell were guest speakers when the Pickaway Garden Club held its meeting at the home of Mrs. Steeley Croman, Route 4, yesterday.

Mrs. Steeley, who has been growing African violets for the past 20 years, has 150 violets in her collection. For potting soil she uses 3 parts garden soil, one part peat, one part sand and one part peat. She starts her plants in soil instead of water and believes a violet should have some sun. She also uses small pots. Mrs. Steeley added saying, "she considers her violets a pleasure and not work."

Mrs. Heiskell is also another successful grower of African violets for the past 20 years. Mrs. Heiskell claims there is no secret for having violets. "Just a little time and attention," said the speaker. Mrs. Heiskell said African Violets like a warm, humid condition. She never allows temperature, in winter, to drop below 60 degrees F. In the summer when temperature rises she provides shade and sometimes cools the violets with the electric fan and sprays a fine mist of water over them.

She said, "they should be fed with a good plant food at least once a week." For a potting soil Mrs. Heiskell uses Oak leaf mold and soil gathered from the woods.

This she screens through a 1/4" screen and mixes with this sand and peat moss. The soil and pots should be thoroughly sterilized. She concluded, "healthy plants should bloom for eight or nine months."

A question and answer period followed their talks. Mrs. Clarence McAbee related the fact she threw a violet out, thinking it was dead, and later discovered it growing outside under a tree. As guest speaker, Mrs. Donald H. Watt, gave a talk on flower arrangements for the novice. She demonstrated several arrangements and also judged arrangements brought by the members.

Mrs. Annette Merriman, Mrs. Clark Martin and Mrs. Emmett Evans were judged best.

At the close of the meeting refreshments were served by the hostess assisted by Mrs. Reinhard.

Guest night will be held at the next meeting of November 8. The meeting place will be announced later.

There is an easier way of measuring shortening than packing it into a measuring cup. If you need 1/2 cup of shortening, fill a 1 cup measuring utensil with 1/2 cup of cold water; then drop in enough shortening to bring the water up to the 1 cup measurement. Pour out the water, and you're all set.

O'Neill Labor Stand Poses Problem for Platform Panel

By REED SMITH

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP)—Gov. C. William O'Neill's all-out support of a proposal to regulate union contracts poses a problem for the state Republican platform drafters.

Until the governor made the red-hot issue a major part of his re-election campaign, party leaders expected the state convention here next Thursday to remain neutral.

Now, some feel, such a position may be difficult in view of O'Neill's stand and the expectation that incumbent U.S. Sen. John W. Bricker will declare himself on the issue later.

Others assert that platform hearings opening Tuesday will make it clear that the GOP strategy has not changed. They explain that most candidates on the ticket—right down to the county level—prefer to let those at the top judge the hot potato.

That would leave other candidates for state offices, Congress, the Legislature and county posts to follow their political consciences and local sentiments in the rapidly heating campaigns. O'Neill said he will not ask the convention to take a stand.

Adoption of a plank in support of the issue, appearing on ballots as state constitutional amendment No. 2, would commit all Republican candidates to its support, it is claimed.

That would come about because office-seekers promised in their declarations of candidacy to "support and abide by the principles enunciated by the party in its national and state platforms."

The recently adopted Democratic state platform contains an anti-amendment plank. Michael V. DiSalle, making his second bid for governor; Stephen M. Young, U. S. senatorial nominee, and other Democratic candidates have declared against the amendment.

The proposed amendment reads: "No employer or labor organization shall deny or abridge the right to work by requiring membership or non-membership in, or payment or non-payment of money to, a labor organization as a condition of employment or continued employment in this state."

O'Neill put his campaign into orbit by shifting from tacit to vocal approval of the proposal.

"I am going to make the right to work amendment one of the major issues of the campaign," he declared. "The widespread intimidation which has been reported to me in the correspondence I have received since my announcement of my position has aroused me to the point that I feel I must speak out emphatically."

The governor said only a few of the more than 200 letters received criticized his stand. He described the letters as obviously spontaneous rather than the result of an organized campaign.

"I have received a great many letters from laboring men expressing themselves for right to work but I have received nothing from the labor bosses," O'Neill reported. "I think about every labor boss in Ohio is opposed to me."

DiSalle asserted O'Neill should not use the issue to divert attention from the "financial mess" and other shortcomings of his administration.

"I still feel that the problems facing the state in the next four years are the issues in the campaign," DiSalle asserted. "Of course, I don't blame him for wanting to run away from them."

DiSalle said all three Cleveland newspapers reported on Oct. 4, 1956, that the central labor body there was told by officials that O'Neill "assured them of his opposition to right to work and promised labor a voice in the appointment of some high state official."

O'Neill received support in that campaign from William Presser, president of the Ohio Conference of Teamsters, and paid for it by having a labor contract control bill smothered in the last Legislature, DiSalle asserted. Presser recently refused to answer questions asked by a congressional investigating committee.

O'Neill says he will continue his practice of declining to comment on charges by the opposition.

Schools Start Parent Survey

Pickaway County schools soon will start a federal checkup of school parents who are employed by the federal government in any capacity, it was announced Thursday at a county superintendents' meeting held in the Ashville-Harrison school.

Each school will make its own survey to ascertain the number of parents employed within any phase of federal government. It was announced at the meeting that information pertaining to procedure for loan collections of visual aids from the Ohio State Museum was in the mail.

Newsletters and safety posters for districts will be distributed soon. Schools were asked to name their faculty members to the National Honor Society.

Bing Crosby Hopes Next Child Will Be Long-Sought Daughter

HOLLYWOOD (AP) — Is there a daughter in Bing Crosby's future? Bing thinks so.

"Next time we'll get a girl," he says confidently.

This came out in a chat with the show business great as he worked on the first of his two spectacles for ABC this week. In a mellow mood, he spoke of his latest son, Harry Lillis Jr., his four older boys and their burgeoning careers.

"We were kinda hoping for a girl," he said, speaking for himself and wife Kathy Grant. "But that boy of ours is such a wonderful little fella that we're not at all disappointed."

Young Tex, as he is called for his mother's home state, is an early riser, Bing reported. But that's all right because Bing is too. They both get up around 6.

"Yes, I can handle a diaper pretty well," the crooner smiled. "And I do a little singing to him when I try to get him to sleep. I carry him around and rock him; they seem to like the movement at that age (2 months)."

The lad has already taken his first journey. His parents drove him to their Pebble Beach home, 300 miles north, and he enjoyed the cool climate in contrast to Los Angeles' late summer heat.

This week the entire Crosby clan gathered for a dinner to honor son Phillip and his bride, Las Vegas showgirl Sandra Drummond. The celebration seemed to belie reports of discord among Bing and his boys.

"She's a very sweet girl," Bing said. "She's got a good head on her shoulders and she doesn't drink or smoke."

Papa Crosby admitted that he was surprised that his four older boys appear headed for show biz careers.

"I knew Gary would probably try it, but I thought I had the other three headed in different directions," he said. "The twins (Phillip and Dennis) looked as though they might take over the Elko (Nev.) ranch. But I guess they got too close to it. They spent their summers up there working hard and I suppose the ranching life lost its glamor for them."

"I suppose it's only natural they would be going into show business. After all, their mother (Dixie Lee) and father were in it, and all our friends were too."

Don't Sit There! Do Something, Oldsters Are Told

CHICAGO (AP) — Don't just sit there and complain, senior citizens. Do something constructive.

That advice comes from Walter Brennan, 64-year-old actor who plays the grandpa role in real life as well as in the movies and on TV.

He offers oldsters these tips: Stop feeling sorry for yourselves.

Seek out constructive activity. Keep your minds and muscles occupied in satisfying ways. Retain and sharpen your sense of humor.

Quit complaining, and start being thankful.

Give abundantly of yourselves in any way that you are able.

Brennan, who has 11 grandchildren, spelled out his counsel in an article published today in today's Health, a magazine produced by the American Medical Assn.

Garden Gossip

Not nearly so glamorous as the tuberous rooted begonia but nonetheless an excellent plant blooming in late summer is the hardy begonia. If planted in the shade it thrives for years without special care. It deserves more notice. Mrs. Edith Koch, Route 2, Ashville, has an interesting planting of it. A great many not-too-ordinary plants may be found in Mrs. Koch's garden.

Attention Mrs. Hornbeck — Mrs. Koch was able to identify the hollyhock-like flower that you brought to the September meeting of the garden club. It is Sidalcea, hardy, self-seeding perennial. Mrs. Koch got her start from Mrs. Trimble Parker near Chillicothe. Park Seed Co. describes it as a handsome plant with spikes of hollyhock-like flowers.

Speaking of Parks, I had fun last year ordering seeds of plants I did not know. One of these unfamiliar was the unicorn plant. I was showing my nephew the flower border the other day and he pointed to an enormous plant sprawling all over the place and asked what it was. When I said, "That's my unicorn" he began to laugh. He then repeated James Thurber's story, "Unicorn in the Garden". My nephew says it's quite a famous story.

The unicorn plant has big seed pods that may be useful in dried arrangements. Floyd Bartley says the pods will split after a few weeks.

My friends are all trying to find flowers that will be suitable for my violet and white border. I was badly stung by several catalogues that described certain flowers as lavender. The funniest mistake was a dahlia, Madame Elizabeth Sawyer, said to be lavender. It has turned out a bronze color. Gladioli that were named Lavender Beauty were a deep magenta so were the lavender zinnias. True lavenders are hard to come by.

MRS. GEORGE Huskey said there were some lavender tulips good for forcing that I ought to know about.

The lane along the Kirby Drake house on Route 56 is planted with wild aster and goldenrod. This is a mighty pretty sight but I was told the Drakes were teased all summer about the weeds bordering the driveway.

Mrs. G. Guy Campbell, veteran director of Pumpkin Show Flower Show says she's not worried about frost. The exhibitors always arrive at the show with wonderful material even if the frosts have been heavy.

Daisy Huskey was telling us about her terrarium. One year she had a very beautiful one. They placed two small turtles among the plants. Before long the turtles burrowed down in the moss and disappeared. The Huskeys thought the children had taken the turtles out and lost them. They put two more turtles in the terrarium. The same thing happened. In spring all four turtles appeared, very happy, too, after their long rest.

Funeral services were held recently for Prof. Harry Vanordall, Wilmington. He had been an authority on Ohio ferns and was the author of "Trees and Shrubs of Ohio". He was a classmate of George Borders, King-ton.

Now at the press to be published soon is a study survey in pamphlet form by Janice Beatsley and Floyd Bartley. Miss Beatsley has done all the research on the trees and shrubs in Jackson County and Bartley all the work on flora of the county.

Floyd Bartley was interested to hear about the "bonnet violet" which had been given one of the patients at Home and Hospital. Bonnet violet or monkshood is one of the aconites and is rarely found in the wild form in Ohio. The flowers had been brought for the patient by relatives who have a cottage in the Hocking Hills.

Mrs. Harry Hitchcock, 349 E. Union St., has a southern magnolia that's blooming now. The tree has several buds. One flower in full bloom, was sent to Loring Hoffman in Salt Creek Twp. Mrs. Hitchcock was thinking that the frost would get the magnolia Wednesday night. Magnolia grandiflora generally blooms in June.

Pioneer Acres, the Harry Mollus farm in Pickaway Twp. has been particularly lovely this summer. A big planting of zinnias and Heavenly Blue morning Glories over the front stoop add a nice touch of color to the handsome old brick house.

People tell me that Ralph Wallace, dog warden, has flowers that are nothing short of gorgeous this year. The dog pound is having garden visitors just there to see the flowers. We hear that Wallace planted four packages of big marigolds and that the marigolds are a real sight.

Gardeners have a time of it when a killing frost is announced. It's sort of like having a fire. You have to decide what you want to save since nobody can save all the flowers in the garden. I decided to cover my Japanese anemones first. I've never had anemones before. Next I covered a climax marigold plant (I want to enter that in the specimen division of Pumpkin Show) and lastly I covered a ball dahlia.

I talked to Mrs. Edith Koch Wednesday morning and she said she had picked a lot of her dahlias. I shiver to think of the frost in that beautiful garden of dahlias.

THE CHARLES Camp garden on E. Mound St. has a row of fall radishes ready to eat. A daughter who lives in the country comes in town to get vegetables from her father.

That's the way it is with farmers these days. There's not as much emphasis put on vegetable raising as there used to be. One young farmer, Dalton Delong, claims that raising vegetables definitely doesn't pay a farmer in dollars and cents. Anyway, town people seem to be the better gardeners. I guess they do it just for fun.

Jim Mowery's chrysanthemums are wonderful we are told. Jim had the four All American mum winners in his garden. Jim's mums took a prize at the county fair, first prize I believe.

The chrysanthemums at the Shidler Beauty Shop are marvelous plants. Mrs. Shidler grows prize-winning roses and has outstanding geraniums. If the chrysanthemums mean that she is looking for new worlds to conquer she's accomplished that already.

Mrs. E. C. Wilkins, Pickaway Twp., has five of the biggest dahlias she's ever grown. Mrs. Wilkins has been growing dahlias for years and if she says they're big, they are big.

Ordinarily, Allegheny bamboo has long wands of pink flowers just before frost. The nicest bamboo we know is to be found at the M. D. Lorenz filling station at Route 4, Circleville.

Daisy Huskey says the Allegheny bamboo is not a bamboo at all. She's going to find it's botanical name.

Mrs. James Hott and Mrs. Turner Pontius went after beech leaves Tuesday. Anybody wanting glycerine treated beech leaves had better hop to it. Remember Pumpkin Show starts Oct. 15.

Mrs. James R. Otto, Chillicothe, represented the Pickaway Garden Club at the annual meeting of Carden Club of Ohio held Wednesday in Akron. Mrs. Otto, a member of the Pickaway Garden Club served as regional vice president for the Columbus region this year.

A rosarian from Australia, Dr. A. S. Thomas visited the Columbus Park of Roses Thursday. He was the guest of James Gurney, executive secretary of the American Rose Society. Dr. Thomas was the recipient of the Dean Hole medal from the English National Rose Society in 1952 the highest honor the English bestow. He is the author of "Better Roses" now in its second edition.

Mrs. C. W. Hedges, Route 2, Ashville, was winner of the grand sweepstakes in the artistic division of the Scioto Valley Dahlia Society dahlia show which took place recently in Chillicothe.

The Solaqua Garden Club, of which Mrs. C. W. Hedges is a member, was awarded the rosette for the winning garden club exhibit at the same dahlia show.

McCormack Doubts Ike Knows Foreign Policy

PENACOKE, N.H. (AP) — U.S. House Majority Leader John W. McCormack (D-Mass.) doesn't think much of the Eisenhower administration's foreign policy.

"What is the foreign policy of the Eisenhower administration?" McCormack asked at a Democratic rally Thursday night.

"I don't know," he said, "and in my role I should be told."

"Frankly," McCormack added, "I don't think Eisenhower and Dulles know either."

Low Bid Is Submitted For Athens Hospital

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP) — H. E. Miller and Co., Inc., Groveport, has submitted the apparent low bid of $284,030 for construction work at Athens State Hospital. The Department of Public Works, which opened the bids Friday, said the work involves reconstruction of two cottages and an amusement hall floor, and improving the roofing on eight additional buildings.

Marco Polo reported that salt was used as small change money in Tibet. In modern times it is still used for the same purpose by some African tribes.

In Alaska about three people live in the country for every one city dweller.

DRIED ARRANGEMENT — The pleasant thing about making dried arrangements according to Hott, is the knowledge that they will last indefinitely. The time spent in creating a dried arrangement is well spent when you remember it will last many months. (Staff Photo)

Rose Park to Have Rose Show, Concert

Park of Roses, Whetstone Park, Acton Road and High Street, Columbus.

As the nineteenth and final offering on the Park's Summer Concert series the Columbus Maennerchor and Damenschor will present an inspiring concert at 4:00 p.m.

SUMMER FLOWERS FOR WINTER USE — A box, a flower at peak of bloom and some horax! And in a week or two Georgia Hott will have flowers that will last for years. Mrs. Hott's big garden provides the flowers for her dried arrangements. She has done considerable experimentation. Sometimes it's difficult to tell her preserved flowers from fresh ones. (Staff Photo)

Wooden Nickel Cost Goes Up to 7 Cents

MONTCLAIR, N.J. (AP) — The cost of wooden nickels has gone up to 7 cents.

The local Chamber of Commerce has been selling 5-cent pieces made of pine wood to merchants. They will be handed out free to customers after Oct. 16 as part of a promotion scheme.

The nickels are worth a nickel each to the customers. But what with the cost of pine wood and handling, merchants have been paying $7 for a hundred of the tokens.

The agency said the new rules are effective immediately.

Carlson Books Outlaw Search

TV Communist Hunt To Net Him Million

HOLLYWOOD (AP)—Having led three lives as a Commie inter, Richard Carlson is now going back in history to chase down outlaws of the Texas border.

Carlson is the star of the immensely successful "I Led Three Lives." Though he hasn't made a chapter in the series for two years, it is still playing everywhere and bringing him a pile of cash. Has he earned a million dollars?

"Not quite a million," he replied cautiously, "though it may pass the mark soon." His next check, for example, will probably be around $30,000 for a three-month period.

No wonder Dick can say, "Television has been good to me."

And it will be even better. He is well into his second series, "McKenzie's Raiders," also made by Ziv Productions for syndication, not network play. But judging from his sponsors and the many markets already sold, he'll make as much or more than if it played the network first.

The story concerns a real-life Army commander who was assigned by President Grant to clean up the marauders who looted Texas as they vanished over the Rio Grande. McKenzie's orders were to pursue the bandits into Mexico if necessary, but he had to assume the consequences if caught.

"The situation presents a 'do or die' situation," Dick enthused. "I think the show has a good chance of clicking."

He went on to argue that it's the vehicle that counts in TV.

"A lot of us who were only so-so in the movies have done well in TV because we had the right show," he said. "Yet a big picture name like Frank Sinatra can do a flop. His name means nothing in TV unless the show is good."

If Man Helps Kiddies, Sentence To Be Lifted

DAYTON, Ohio (AP)—If Roy (Jeep) Hughes, former major league baseball player, takes part in a local baseball program for children next summer, Montgomery County Judge Robert J. Withrow will suspend a 30-day jail term and a $200 fine assessed for resisting a township constable.

Hughes pleaded guilty Friday to charges of threatening the constable with a shotgun when he came to collect payment of $100 which Hughes owed. Hughes told the judge he would show up for the baseball program.

2 Men Rob McClure Bank

NAPOLEON, Ohio (AP)—Two men armed with pistols walked into the Farmers State Bank at nearby McClure today, scooped up money from cash drawers and escaped with a third man who had kept a black getaway car running just outside the bank.

Cashier Harold Richard said he would not know the amount of money taken until he had checked each teller's cash drawer.

Richard and two women employees—Maxine Ballmer and Lillian Perkins—were alone in the bank when the robbers entered.

The robbers made no attempt to get into the closed safe in the bank.

The automobile sped north on Ohio 65. A witness told sheriff's deputies the car had unmatched license plates on the front and rear bumpers.

MIG Jets Damage Transport Plane

TAIPEI, Formosa (AP)—Four Chinese Communist MIG-17s attacked Nationalist cargo planes over Quemoy today. One transport was heavily damaged and forced to land on a Quemoy beach, the Nationalist Defense Ministry announced. The radio operator and the navigator were wounded.

The attack occurred during an air drop of food and medical supplies to the blockaded Nationalist garrison on the island.

A ministry spokesman did not disclose how many planes were in the air when the attack occurred.
